Savvy & Influential Communication for
Ambitious Women in Business

Communicate and influence with confidence, style & ease for your career success

Kay White, author of the number 1 best-seller The A to Z of Being Understood and founder of mentoring company, Way Forward Solutions, shows experienced career women how to attract more income and opportunity by understanding how to own, position and express their value.

Drawing on her own 20-year corporate career in international insurance broking to Director level, Kay shows her clients how language, influence and building and leveraging relationships contributes to personal confidence and sparkle. All of which directly affect if or how women are recognised, valued and rewarded at work.
